

An Invitation

Dear Friend:

What does the future hold for you — your business — your community? It is a big question, and one that is hard to answer. There is one thing for sure — the progress of Canyon and Randall County has a lot to do with the progress of your business, job or even your property.

Thursday and Friday, April 17 and 18, you have an opportunity to spend just one hour that may have a vital effect upon your future. Those are the days of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce Progress Forum for you and me as well as a number of our friends and associates.

Your suggestions at that meeting may be the beginning of a new industry for Randall County, a new civic or cultural endeavor, or any one of countless other activities that will improve the economic well-being of our county and enhance the earning possibilities of you and me.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce is anxious to have your suggestions and ideas on what projects should be undertaken for the benefit of this county and people.

The meeting will be informal and you will have a chance to express your ideas. Please be thinking about the future and bring your ideas to the meeting.

To Feature Groups In Revival Services

Three different groups will be featured in the evening services of the general revival at the First Methodist Church this week.

Featured in tonight's service will be a children's 100 voice chorus. The Rev. Quay Parmer of Fort Worth, evangelist, and Earl Ward of Waco, music director, will be in charge of the service.

Evening services will begin at 7:30 p. m. Services will also be held at 7 a. m. tomorrow and Friday, followed by breakfast at 7:40 a. m.

High school and college students will be featured Thursday night, and Friday will be ladies' night.

Sermon topic Saturday night will be "Why I Am a Methodist."

The revival, which began April 9, will run through Sunday.

April Showers Bring Wetness

April is turning out to be the wettest thing yet.

So far this month there has been a total of 1.21 inches of moisture — most of it in rain, but some of it in mixed-up stuff that could have been snow, sleet or hail and rain, or maybe all four.

Last weekend was the wettest, with 1.08 inches from Friday morning through Sunday evening. Earlier in the week, on Tuesday night, 1.3 of an inch fell.

In addition to wetting down crops and grassland, the rain has held up construction work in and around Canyon.

Cub Scouts Cleanup Time

The Cub Scouts in Canyon, all eight Dens, swarmed like ants Thursday afternoon and cleaned up the streets, gutters, parkways and some of the alleys around town. This group had nearly a pickup load when less than half through.

Garden Club Proposes Beautifying Courthouse Square With Flowers

A request that flowers and shrubs be planted around the courthouse was given to the Randall County Commissioners Court Monday by members of the Canyon Garden Club.

The court asked the delegates, Mrs. W. E. Parker, president of the club, and Mrs. Bill Downing, for a detailed plan of what could be done before a decision is made.

Mrs. Parker told the court that the club would like to work with the county in beautifying the square. "We are of the opinion that it can be made into a beautiful spot," Mrs. Parker said.

She suggested that perennial flowers be planted in the strips of ground under the trees around the new parking lots being built. Mrs. Parker said that possibly annual flowers could be planted now, and they could be changed to perennials later.

Judge Roy Joe Stevens said that care of the flowers might be more than could be undertaken by Leroy Miller, the janitor. Mrs. Downing said that the strips would have to be cared for anyway, and it would be very little more trouble to care for flowers than for a bare area.

The delegates from the club and the court commended the sheriff's department for planting flowers in the small plots of ground between the front of the sheriff's office and the sidewalk on the south side of the square.

In discussing the courthouse square, Mrs. Parker said she was opposed to using any of the ground for parking, and said that large cities such as New York and Chicago, which are crowded for space, still maintain garden spots around public buildings.

Judge Stevens said that the court has not discussed officially or unofficially, "to my knowledge," any plans for converting the north side of the square to parking area.

Commissioner Clarence Beckman told Mrs. Parker that the Garden Club might be interested to know that "pressure is being put on us to turn that area over to parking, but we want to do what the majority of the public wants and now would be the time for anyone who does not want that lawn paved to make his feelings known to the court."

Mrs. Parker promised a detailed plan for planting for consideration by the court at its next meeting Monday.

In other action, the court cancelled a re-plot of Block 10, South Sides Estates, after receiving a petition by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hatton, owners of the entire block. The Hattons were represented by Paul A. Speer, Amarillo attorney, and O. V. Donnell, Amarillo real estate dealer.

Farm Bureau Sets Safety School

A safety drivers school for automobile drivers will be held at the Umbarger Public School April 24 beginning at 1 p. m.

The school is sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau and a truck equipped with loudspeakers, speed tests and other safety devices will be used. A highway patrolman will assist in the instruction.

The safety school is primarily for teenage drivers, but is open to the public and adult drivers interested in the school are urged to participate.

Babe Ruth Tryouts Set May 5; Prospective Players Sign Up Now

Tryouts for players for the Randall County Babe Ruth League will be held during the week beginning May 5, the league decided Friday night.

The Player Auction, which will place the players on one of the teams, will be held on May 12. Player agents are Bill Sternberg and Bob Bellah.

Boys between the ages of 13 and 15 who have not signed up in the baseball program are urged to contact Sternberg or Bellah as soon as possible. When signing up, boys need a copy of their birth certificate or some other official proof of birth.

Any boy who lives in Randall County outside the city limits of Amarillo is eligible to play in the league.

More volunteer umpires are needed for the season. Men who can serve are asked to contact C. R. McPherson, chief umpire.

This week, workmen and power equipment continued the job of leveling the playing area at Corner Park. The work was started earlier this year, but was held up because of bad weather.

The drive for funds is also continuing, with a dozen solicitors at work.

Preceded by a dinner for state district officers Monday in the Blue Room of West Texas State College cafeteria, the conference was presided over by Mrs. W. E. Miller of Canyon.

Dr. and Mrs. James P. Cornette of Canyon were hosts to the delegates for a luncheon at the WT cafeteria.

Members of the local committee are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wear, Dr. and Mrs. Cornette, Mrs. W. W. Sternberg, Mrs. W. A. Moore, Gibson, Rex Reeves, J. E. Miller, Lawrence Brotherton, Dr. Lowes, Dr. Findley, Mrs. Clay Cooper and Mrs. W. E. Miller.

Incumbent

TED B. SPRINGER

Area Legislator Asks Re-Election

"I believe in states' rights, but backed by strong state responsibilities," said Ted B. Springer of Amarillo, who has announced for second term as representative of the 94th Flatorial District, composed of Potter, Randall, Armstrong and Carson counties, subject to the Democratic primary July 26, 1958.

Springer pointed to his record in the 55th Legislature, both in the regular session last winter, and the special session in October.

"We passed legislation for the first state-wide water program—we passed the first Mental Health Code in the state's history—we passed a lobby controls bill after several sessions of effort—we set up a juvenile drivers' license law that should give more control over our reckless youthful drivers—we increased the aid to handicapped Texas citizens—we raised the pay of our teachers," he pointed out.

"We also put several issues before the people for vote next fall as amendments to the Texas constitution," he continued. "Certainly we cannot strengthen our state government until we put the best men in the legislature that we can get. We need annual sessions of the legislature in order to do away with the long-term budgeting (two years) that will no longer serve the best interests of Texans. The 55th Legislature approved these measures and Texans can now vote on the issue."

"We also passed a resolution calling for a vote on allowing the state of Texas to advertise its resources and vacation possibilities."

Springer was not entirely satisfied with the progress made this year. "We need to strengthen the lobby bill which we passed. It was a weak bill but we can improve it in the next regular session. We must also continue to expand our farm-to-market roads, and strengthen our laws to protect individuals and small businesses. We cannot improve the educational system of Texas unless we are willing to improve the salaries of our teachers in the future."

The representative is opposed to any form of sales tax, but is watching the sessions of the state commission on taxes for good ideas to improve the tax structure. "The commission, which includes legislators as well as businessmen, will report its findings to the 56th Legislature in the winter of 1959," he said.

He pointed out that he voted against any increase of tuition in the state colleges.

For the future, he sees also continued emphasis on the work of the Commission on Alcoholism and the Youth Development Council. He also wants to see further development of Palo Duro State Park by the park board.

"I think our present state insurance laws are adequate. Our failure has been in enforcement and administration of the laws we have," he said. "Only a small percent of the Texas insurance companies are in trouble. Most are strong and sound."

Springer, who is an employee of the Globe-News, worked on several papers in the Panhandle and South Plains, before coming to Amarillo in 1945. He was born on a farm in Chickasaw County, Miss., in 1913 and came to Randall County in 1921.

He lives at 1314 Bellaire with his wife, Lillie, and one son, Larry, 10. The Springers are members of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo.

"If re-elected, I will continue my program of representation for all in the four county area, with obligations toward none," he said.

Board Re-Elects Same Officers

All officers of the Canyon Independent School District board were re-elected Tuesday night as the board canvassed the recent election, installed those elected and re-organized the board for the coming year.

Officers of the board are A. C. Haley Jr., president, Walter Graham, vice president, Bill Sternberg, secretary, and Mrs. Clay Cooper, assistant secretary.

The board declared the election of J. O. Parker and Conway Kuykendall and they were installed. In other business the board approved the continued employment of secretarial, bus maintenance, cafeteria and custodial workers.

They also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Suzanne Tatman, home-making teacher in the junior and senior high. Mrs. Tatman will leave at the end of the school year to join her husband, who is in service.

E. T. Cummings was approved to audit the school's books for this year. The board also approved expenditure of $3000 for new athletic equipment for next year.

5 Days Remain In Calvary Revival

Five days remain in the general revival now in progress at the Calvary Baptist Church.

Led by the Rev. Leon Clay, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Sanger, services for the revival are being held at 7 a. m. and 8 p. m. daily. The meeting will be concluded Sunday.

Music director for the revival is Ronnie Smith, music director at the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church in Amarillo.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will conduct a revival at the Palo Duro Baptist Church at Wildorado April 20-27.

Police Call

Just like in the Army, the Cubs were all elbows and bent backs Thursday afternoon while cleaning the streets in Canyon. The Cubs cleaned most of the trash off the streets—the hard way, bending and picking.

350 Delegates At P-TA Convention

Central Church of Christ was the scene of the 35th annual District 8 Conference of the Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday.

Main speaker for the meeting was Dr. Joseph Ray, president of Amarillo College, who spoke on "Perspective and Balance in Today's World" to 350 delegates from 11 counties.

Two workshops were also highlights of the program.

A general workshop was moderated by Charles Eads of Amarillo. Assisting him were Dr. John McFarland of Amarillo, Mrs. T. A. Swenson of Tyler, Mrs. R. R. Moore of Amarillo, Mrs. Nelson Welch of Friona and Bob Wear of Canyon.

A Factor in the First

The other day we heard an old-timer tell of the first automobile wreck he remembered occurring in the Panhandle of Texas. It seems one of the family of the Dr. LeGear medicine-making company came to this country to peddle the company wares.

He drove a lavender-colored car from town to town, and invariably created quite a stir on his arrival. As the old-timer put it, "the mommas and poppas and all the kids came around to see that car."

One day the medicine drummer was going from Mobeetie to Wheeler. Where the furrowed road crossed Sweetwater Creek, there was quite a drop-off from the plains down to the creek bottom. On one side there was a sheer drop of several feet as the road clung to the cliff side.

LeGear was scooting across the plains that morning, and had no knowledge of the quick drop to Sweetwater Creek. He ran up the break, saw the problem and swerved away from the dropoff. His car went into the creek rather than off the cliff and LeGear was thrown to safety on the far side of the creek. His lavender car was upside down in the water.

It took eight mules to pull the car loose the next day, and it was loaded onto a railroad car and taken back to the east for repairs.

The causative factor (as the highway patrol puts it) in that early wreck was excessive speed, the same thing that causes most of the wrecks today. Of course there weren't any highway patrolmen in those days, just Texas Rangers, but if there had been, they would have been preaching: "Slow down and live."

Now's Your Chance

This week the Canyon Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a series of one-hour forums to make up a work plan for the next few years and to find out just what the people of Canyon and Randall County want their home area to become.

Most of us gripe on occasion about the way things are going. We don't like this and we want to know why "they" don't do this and so.

Now's your chance to have a say in what "they" do. There is no obligation to join the chamber, but out any effort and spend any money. The chamber wants your ideas and your thinking, that is all.

Pick out one of the forums and attend. They last only one hour and take up very little of your time. There's one that will fit your special group, but if you can't attend that one, another will do almost as well.

The ideas gained at the meetings will be put together and studied. From the meetings will come a program of work, and if the program doesn't include your ideas, will it be because you didn't attend one of the meetings? We hope not.

Need a Celebration?

Almost every day is special for some reason or another, and most of us seldom find it hard to dig up a reason for a big celebration. But for those who need a reason to celebrate, but can't find one—here's a list of "specials" for May.

The whole month is National White (Enriched) Bread Month, and it is also Better Bedding Time and National Canned Hamburger Month. The entire 31-day period has also been named May Is Picture Month and National Retirement Month.

The second week of May is Let's Go Fishing Week, but we don't think we'll be able to wait that long although we'll probably celebrate that week, too.

The third week is National Domestic Rabbit Week and the last week is National Pickle Week.

May 31 is National Tax Freedom Holiday, because that's the date when most all of us quit working for the government and begin working for ourselves.

Starting May 15 and ending June 15 is National Mothproofing Month. The last week in May is Good Car-Keeing Week. May 25 is National Youth Adoration Week.

If none of those suit you, May 31 is also our birthday and that seems a good reason to celebrate to us at least.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS By BOYCE HOUSE

If a writer means himself, what's wrong with saying "I"?

His explanation is that "I" sounds egotistical — so he refers to himself as "we" — and that doesn't sound egotistical; it is egotistical.

Fort Worth Morning Star-Telegram I came in late in the afternoon with a pocket full of notes on news stories to be written but instead of lighting into the typewriter, I "visited" with Bob Randol, a reporter for the afternoon paper.

Whereupon my city editor sauntered back and, in a tone of make-believe nonchalance, he inquired of me, "Boyce, is Robert annoying you?"

Randol, who had only been listening and actually was anxious to finish up his work so he could leave, turned red.

Some months later, the city editor was made state editor — so therefore I was no longer under his authority. One afternoon, he had wandered over to the sports department and was talking to a member of that department who was politely listening but was desirous of getting back to his work. I strolled up and said to the city editor, "Harold, is Mc annoying you?"

The former city editor's face turned fiery red and he walked away. I had achieved my long-cherished revenge.

But wait! Mc, ordinarily, a mild kind of chap, angrily said to me, "Was I annoying him? I hadn't said a word."

So I hastened to explain — and Mc was all right again. In fact, "Is so-and-so annoying you?" became a byword between Mc and me.

What Our Neighbors Say...

Scissor Snippings

Paul Crume in the Dallas Morning News: Admittedly, we don't have the soul of an artist. For a long time, though, we have been bothered by things that take place at a piano concert that we can't see or hear. Other people do, apparently, for the program notes mention them.

At a recent Dallas concert, for instance, we checked the notes on Debussy's "La Soiree dans Grenade" and found that the following was taking place: "The listener stands on a rocky pine-clad hill above town. Vague sounds of the Habanera are heard. The night breezes murmur in the tree tops. A tavern door swings open, and the dance is heard at its height."

Very faintly the rhythm of the Habanera persists; the wind whistles once more, and the listener is at last conscious of nothing but the night and the stars."

We don't question for a minute that all this happened. The bother is that, after paying our money, we apparently missed the show.

We were the listener, and we give you our word there wasn't a pine tree connected with it.

All that we saw at the concert was a gracious, gifted woman at a piano and all we heard was some music that was pleasant and even affecting. Since then, we have looked at the sheet music on the Debussy piece, and we can find no mention of pines either.

We are personally not up to spelling much more than "cat" with musical notes, of course.

It seems to us that this description of what happens in "La Soiree dans Grenade" is just as accurate as the program note: "The listener is seated on a bench in a tavern in the fine resonant glow that is caused by too much fine wine. Vague sounds of the Habanera drift into his mind. Things buzz around in his head. Somebody shakes him, and for a moment the dance is heard at its height. The sounds die away as his head drops, etc."

Of course, Debussy knew what he was writing about, and we are not going to argue. The only thing this listener was conscious of "at last," however, was the coughing and paper-rustling that broke the spell.

We have a preference for opera program notes. If a tenor sings, "I love you, I love you, I love you," and the program says, "He loves her," you know darn well it is right.

This comes from the music we heard as a boy in West Texas, probably. An example of the opening of "The Streets of Laredo" which goes: "As I was a-riding one morning for pleasure."

This is a cunning piece of composition. The words not only get everybody on stage where they belong; they make it plain that the singer just wandered by the place where the shooting happened and that he wasn't to blame.

As we said, though, we don't have the soul of an artist.

Ernest Joiner in the Dallas Banner: The 14-year-old daughter of Lana Turner has rendered something of a public service in dispatching her mother's gigolo with a butcher knife. It proves, among other things, that some kids have more sense than their elders.

Coyote hunting in certain parts of the state now is furnishing sport for a good many shooters.

Most of this hunting is done with the benefit of one of the mouth callers currently on the market. However, some hunters just drive down country lanes and shoot coyotes that dare to cross the roads. This latter method is dangerous. Also it's a violation of the law.

Recently a group of us went coyote hunting in Zapata County, down on the Mexican border. We were with Raymond Davee, the game warden. Raymond knew where the coyotes were running, and also how to use a mouth call.

It was a bad morning. The wind was blowing strong from the north. This meant the call didn't carry very far in that direction, and the animals could get our scent down wind.

We did get one coyote, however, which proves it can be done.

It was the first time the three of us had met. Yet when we showed up for the hunt each of us had a scope-equipped 222 Remington. Proof enough that this is an ideal calibre for coyote shooting.

Although this gun is not recommended for deer, it is effective in the hands of a good shot. My gun, the pump action, was used by three wildlife biologists during the deer season to take three deer specimens. Each was killed with a single shot.

The gun is equipped with a Weaver K 4 scope, and you can put the bullet just about where you want to.

Incidentally, Remington has just announced a souped up version of the 222 in the model 722. It is a magnum load, and is not interchangeable with the present cartridge. The bullet weighs 55 grains. It leaves the muzzle at 3300 fps, dropping to 2340 at 200 yards.

It has 1330 ft. lbs. of energy at the muzzle, dropping to 670 at 200 yards. Its mid-range trajectory at 200 yards is 2.3" and 6.1" at 300 yards, which makes it a flat shooter for varmints.

Shooting coyotes and fox with a gun like this can furnish a lot of good sport and serve a good job of varmint eradication.

First, however, you need the land owner's permission, and you should use every precaution. There is less danger in one of these high-speed bullets than in a heavy bullet because they go to pieces on impact with most anything. However, they'll kill a steer just as dead as they will a coyote.

Coyote calling has become quite a pastime with ranch owners in West and Southwest Texas. Game wardens also have taken up the craze and many coyotes have been lured into shooting range.

Mostly the calls have been made by individuals who have perfected the reeds to produce noises like a crying rabbit. Some hunters are adept at calling with their mouths, or sucking against the shoulder part of the hand. Still others buy reed horns in 5 and 10 stores. With a little practice they are very effective.

The task is to mimic as nearly as possible the cry of an injured rabbit. The coyote can hear this for two or three miles. Unless he's been shot at before he'll get there in a hurry.

Growing Popular

A sport which is showing a rapid increase in Texas is bow and arrow hunting. Advances in the manufacture of archery equipment have made it possible for enthusiasts to get high quality at prices that are within reason.

Unlike firearms, the bow and arrow can be shot in the back yard of your own home. It also is a deadly weapon in the field.

I have just finished reading a new book, Modern Bow Hunting, by Hiram J. Grogan and published by the Stackpole Co., which gives a new insight into archery.

The book deals with all aspects of archery and hunting. It tells how to hunt upland game birds, how to make multi-barbed arrowheads, and very important, the use of a reel and line to save arrows.

Since it now is legal in Texas to use a bow and arrow in shooting rough fish, many hunters will be interested in this phase. In fact there is an entire chapter in the book on bow fishing, telling how to shoot rough fish.

Another chapter deals with the use of squealer calls in predatory hunting. You can put this book on your list of recommended reading.

Snake Hunt

An interesting group recently held its annual field meet on the banks of the Rio Grande in Southwest Texas. It is the Texas Herpetological Society, made up of some 70 men and women who like to hunt snakes and lizards.

Actually it is more than just a hobby with them. Most of them are zoology teachers in schools and colleges of the state. Others, however, are in related work, where they need to know all about the things that crawl and hide under rocks and old logs.

This year's field meet was held on the Trevino ranch, 40 miles northwest of Laredo. More than 600 individual specimens were taken by the "Herps."

Although they turned over thousands of big rocks, they unearthed only one rattler. It was a big four-footer. This area generally is infested with these reptiles. However, the field meet was in the middle of March, just after a heavy norther, and perhaps the snakes were still in their dens.

Dr. Richard Baldouff of Texas A&M College was elected president and Al Flurry of the Game & Fish Commission at Mathis, vice president of the group.

Camping Out

If you are planning a camping vacation this summer you may want a book just off the McMillan press. It is "The New Way of the Wilderness." In it Calvin Rutstrum draws heavily on a long background of wilderness living.

Rutstrum owns a small acreage in Minnesota where he lives six months of the year, in a house built of stone he cut by hand. The other six months he spends in the wilderness. For 12 years he has supervised play programs in children's camps. Each year he takes 200 youngsters on canoe trips.

All this experience has been reduced into an interesting volume for all who like the outdoors.

New Social Club Organized at WT

A fourth social club for men, with 16 charter members, has been organized at West Texas State College. An advisory group from the campus' three older clubs assisted in organizing Lambda Pi Delta, as the new club has been named.

Members and officers of the new group will be presented, with pledges of the four women's clubs and three men's clubs, at the annual Presentation Ball May 3.

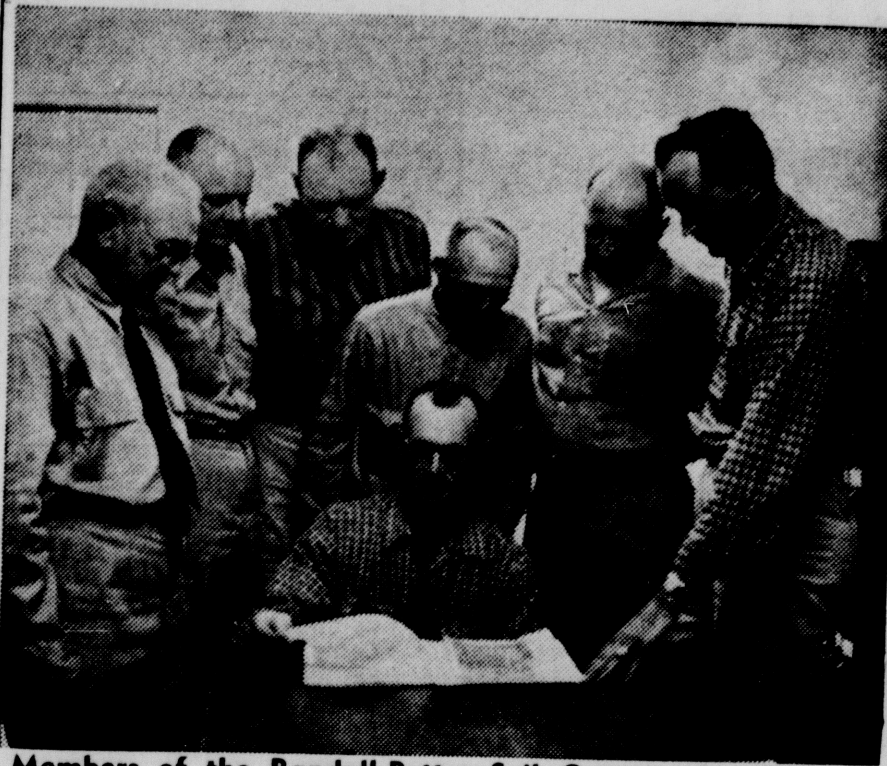

Chosen president of Lambda Pi Delta was Tony Atherton of Stinson, a sophomore. Other officers are Jerry Martindale of Samnorwood, vice-president; James Hinkley of Pampa, secretary; W. C. Russell of Gulf Dial, treasurer; Stanley White of Gulf Dial, reporter. Pledge captains are Pat Tipps of Canadian and Truett Newell of Big Spring.

Other members are Finis Brown of Adrian, John Dye of Dalhart, Johnny Farrar of Roby, Dale Hinds of Hereford, James Jackson of Tulia, Dick Kennedy of Corpus Christi, James Lanier of Kirkland, Gene Levitt of Allison, and Charles Osborn of Amarillo.

Many people could retire comfortably on what their experience has cost them.

First Great Plains Program

AAUW Elects New Officials

Three new officers were elected by the Canyon branch of the American Association of University Women at their spring business meeting held the last Saturday in March at the home of Mrs. Lowell Harrison.

New officers are president, Ruth Cross; second vice president in charge of programs, Dr. Hattie Anderson; secretary, Mrs. Harold Peterson.

They will replace Mrs. Dan Sanders, Dr. Mattie Mack and Mrs. Nora Gilmore, who are finishing their terms. In addition to the election, the members made plans to send delegates to the regional convention in Dallas, April 11 and 12.

Dr. Anderson and Mrs. Peterson will leave Friday. Mrs. Sanders and Mrs. Charles Harter will leave earlier and will accompany Mrs. Erwin Oschner of Amarillo. Mrs. Oschner is vice president of the Southwest region and will be in charge of the conference. Mrs. Harter is state parliamentarian and state education chairman.

Setting the style trend

There's a lot of Thunderbird in every Ford Station Wagon. All six Ford wagons have Thunderbird-inspired style. You'll see it in the trim, sculptured lines and in the impressive front and rear treatment. It's style that sets the style.

Reversing the price trend

Ford made price news everywhere by being the only car in its field to reduce prices in '58. While prices of other cars went UP, Ford made big news by actually pricing some '58 models below comparable '57 models. What's more, Ford Station Wagons are the lowest priced of the low-price three.

With the world's newest V-8, Ford makes engine news, too, with a great new V-8, brim full of Thunderbird power, yet surprisingly economical to operate. Precision Fuel Induction gives you more power on less gas by delivering the fuel-air mixture directly to the cylinders through eight expressways. Result :: you GO better, for less.

With Cruise-O-Matic, 58's answer to the chauffeur shortage. It's the newest, most versatile automatic transmission yet. It's like having a built-in chauffeur to shift gears for you. Try it today!

Improved Cotton and Sorghum Yields With Phillips 66 Ammonia

Martin Schur, Plainview, Tex., says: "I farm 420 acres, and last year I ran 30,000 pounds of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia through my rig. That shows how I depend on this fertilizer to give me high yields of cotton and maize. I put all my Phillips 66 ammonia down pre-plant, in order to get the job out of the way before the busy spring season."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that 82% nitrogen from top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them get more profit per acre through higher yields. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin . . . yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased . . . more marketable vegetables are harvested . . . and profits on wheat are increased through higher yields of grain and extended grazing periods.

Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia contains 82% nitrogen and gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of commercial fertilizer available.

Vows Exchanged In Two Ring Rite

Nuptial vows were solemnized April 5 at 4 p. m. for LaVenia Amerson of Wayside, daughter of F. O. Amerson of Salem, and Jim Williams of Romero, son of Mrs. Mary N. Williams of Hereford.

The double ring ceremony was read in the Las Vegas, N. M., home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams by the pastor of the Methodist church at Las Vegas.

The couple's only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Williams, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. The bride was attired in a light blue suit with navy and white accessories and carried a white Bible, gift of the groom.

Cake and coffee was served immediately after the ceremony by Rhoda Williams of Hereford, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Robert Williams.

After a short honeymoon at Santa Fe, N. M., the couple have made their home at the Jack Renfro ranch at Romero, where Mr. Williams is employed.

A graduate of Happy High School and Wayland College, the bride had lived with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wesley of the Wayside community for several years. She was president of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club and a member of the Fairview Baptist Church. She had taught one year at Wayside and one year at San Jacinto in Brisco County.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

E. E. Sharp, a cooper with the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District, likes the results he got from planting vetch and winter peas to improve his soil.

"You could tell to the row where I had planted peas or vetch by just walking across the maize field," stated Sharp as he talked to a Soil Conservation Service technician.

Sharp dry-planted 11 acres of vetch and 22 acres of winter peas in the late fall of 1956. He irrigated them up but neither of them made very much growth until the spring rains came in 1957.

"They were about knee high and beginning to bloom when I plowed them under the latter part of May,"

1957," explained Sharp. "Both of these legume soil-improving crops are good; but based on the one crop, I believe I prefer the vetch."

After the peas and vetch were turned under, the land was watered prior to planting the same land to maize in mid or late June.

"None of the maize fell that was planted on the winter peas and vetch land," stated Sharp, "while the maize planted earlier on other land in the same field fell pretty bad."

"The maize on the winter peas and vetch land was not quite as heavy, probably because it was planted quite a bit later than the other maize; but the yield was about the same since some of the other maize fell and could not be harvested," said Sharp.

Sharp is planning to seed more vetch this fall, but he wants to get it seeded earlier.

"I think we make a mistake on these legume crops by not letting them grow long enough," said Sharp. "Unless they begin to bloom before they are plowed under, they haven't done as much good as they could," added Sharp.

Any farmer or rancher in the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District wanting more information on soil-improving crops, or on other conservation problems, should contact the Soil Conservation Service in Canyon.

It's a comparatively dull season at the State Capitol now. About the only noticeable "sound and fury" is generated by the workmen putting air conditioning in the legislative chambers and building new state structures nearby.

Last year at this time the Capitol was a turbulent arena. Lawmakers' pounding debates, electric disclosures and close votes kept

Dr. Busted Gains Summer Fellowship

Dr. Robert C. Busted, professor of biology and chairman of the sciences division at West Texas State College, has been awarded a fellowship for a summer institute at Oregon State College.

The institute, sponsored by the National Science Foundation, is for college teachers of biological sciences. It will be held for six weeks, June 30-Aug. 9 in Corvallis, Ore.

Dr. Busted is one of 80 college biology professors selected for the concentrated study of six topics of current interest in the field of biological sciences. They include genetics, microbiology, growth and development, radiation biology, marine and invertebrate biology, and environmental biology.

galleries filled, committee rooms jam-packed.

Now the lawmakers are scattered. But state issues are being decided — elsewhere. Next year's legislators are out "talking with the people to see how they feel."

They're at the church suppers, P.T.A. carnivals, civic club luncheons, lodge nights and cemetery "workings." They're feeling our support, asking questions, making commitments — in your town.

Answers they get and commitments they make now will, in large measure, determine how the close votes go this time next year.

Small Turnover Possible

Prospect now is mostly for familiar faces at the legislative desks next January.

Barring a sudden rash of announcements, at least two-thirds of house members and nearly 90 per cent of senators will be old hands.

Latest statewide survey by the Texas Legislative Service shows only three senators — Otis Lock, Searcy Bracewell and Carlos Ashley — bowing out of politics. There'll be a scramble by House members for those seats.

Of the other 12 senators up for re-election only one, at last count, had an opponent. Remaining 16 in the upper house are having a "breather," since only half of the senate runs each two years.

House of Representatives generally has a large-scale assault on incumbents every election, and about a 30 per cent turnover.

Less upheaval seems likely this year. Only about 20 representatives are not seeking re-election, including those running for the senate. Of those running for the house again, or still undecided, only about 30 have announced opponents.

A question mark enters into race decisions this year. Whether or not legislators will have annual sessions and annual salaries will not be decided until the constitutional amendment is voted on next November — after the primaries. For some the prospect of $7,500 yearly is a lure. Others don't like the idea of having to be away from homes and businesses a good part of every year.

At Last

Spring has finally sprung in Texas employment, bringing the long-awaited seasonal pick-up in jobs.

Texas Employment Commission's latest report, for the first time since Dec. 20, showed a significant decline in the number of unemployment compensation claims. Drop was from 92,435 to 89,326.

TEC said some 14,974 claimants had exhausted their benefits during January and February. Maximum allowed is $28 a week for 26 weeks.

Grow With Us

Some 3,000 major new factories will locate somewhere in the South within the next 10 years.

In reporting this prediction, Gov. Price Daniel urged the state's new Industrial Commission to get in and pitch for a Texas-sized share of the incoming wealth and job-making industries.

Chairman E. B. Germany of Dallas said the commission would accept the challenge. He said the commission would study industry-attracting techniques of other states and prepare a brochure on Texas' advantages.

Chief among these, said Germany, head of Lone Star Steel, is a "healthy attitude" among Texans toward industry.

Commission members serve without salary and without state funds to pay for projects. Several hundred dollars in donations have been received.

If voters next November approve an amendment removing the ban on state-financed advertising, the legislature can appropriate money for this purpose.

"Make It Painless"

Tax talk towers over other topics in the build-up for the 1959 legislative session.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce has added a new idea to the stacks of proposals and counter-proposals being presented to the State Tax Study Commission. It suggests making available for general use some of the unused balances tied up in the state's more than 100 special funds.

AFL-CIO says stricter application of present property tax laws might solve the problem without enacting new levies. "Proper enforcement," said a labor spokesman, would tax, not only real estate, but bank deposits, boats, bank shares, stocks, etc. AFL-CIO had previously suggested a corporation income tax to meet the state treasury's expected need for more than $100,000,000 in additional revenue.

Business groups, generally, have opposed the corporation tax, saying it will hamper Texas' industrial development. Some have proposed a general sales tax.

Tax Study Commission already has issued two of a series of 8 to 10 research reports to lawmakers for tax decisions. A third report, on how tax money is used and what future needs will likely be, is due later this month.

Though taxes are a prime campaign issue, legislative candidates are treading delicately around the subject. One said in his announcement that he opposed a general sales tax and a state income tax and that "if additional taxes have to be levied, let's make it as painless as possible."

Good Roads Ahead

State Highway Commission has given approval to final phase of a 1959-60 state highway building program to cost $319,000,000.

It calls for immediate spending of $9,200,000 for right-of-way buying under the new 50-50 cost-sharing plan between state and local governments.

First phase of the advanced planning program was approved in February. Second phase covers 1,630 miles of roadway in 13 districts at a cost of $140,000,000. This does not include future work on farm to market roads and interstate highways.

Short Snorts

State Selective Service Headquarters has asked local draft boards to send up 4,247 men for pre-induction physical exams during May. It will be second successive month of high quotas — highest since Korean War — to replenish pool of potential military manpower. Price index of Texas farm products rose 2 per cent from February to March, reports U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Crops rose 3 per cent, livestock 1 per cent.

Easter Theme Used At Sewing Meeting

Easter was the theme of an April 3 meeting of the Variety Ring sewing club as the group met with Mrs. Lang Hunter in the home of Mrs. Estelle Rice.

Following "A prayer for the day" by Mrs. P. L. Pitt, Mrs. J. P. Hammons won a prize in games conducted by Mrs. Rice.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Earl Burtz, Mrs. Pitt, Mrs. Jeannette Robbins, Mrs. T. S. Maxwell, Mrs. George Barker, Mrs. Fred Marshall, Mrs. Levi Cole, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Hammons and the hostess.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. George Cox.

Rummaging through some childhood belongings the other day, we found a history notebook that dated back to high school. In neat, meaningless, outline form, it reflected clearly what we never learned about civilization, ancient and medieval. It set us to thinking about how education has changed.

History, or literature, or language (Latin) wasn't supposed to be enjoyed. It wasn't aimed at a teen-aged mind and interest level. It just "was," and you could take it or leave it.

So we read about the rise and fall of the Roman empire, mostly as a series of dates to try to remember. Not until we visited Italy 30 years later did we get the tremendous "feel" of history as places and people, cities and rivers and ideas. It was only dates, and unpronounceable names, and pink or green spots on a map when we made that painstaking outline so long ago.

And instead of the "sampling" books of readings high school kids get nowadays, we plowed through "The Heart of Midlothian" or "Middlemarch" or "Tess of the d'Urbervilles" before we were able to understand. And we never realized the broader horizons of learning to read for enjoyment as well as because we should.

As to Latin, it was Caesar and Cicero (Kicker to you), and Vergil's Aeneid. The latter did come alive, probably because the teacher made an adventure of it, not just a daily chore.

No doubt modern high schools do leave a lot to be desired. Maybe they do coddle the young, and predestine their homework for them. But by golly, today's youngsters know what the textbook is talking about. The subject matter is at least related in some way to them, here, now. And they don't have to guess why they're being asked to learn history, English, science and math.

NEWS LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Flags Over the Capital

I have had several inquiries lately concerning flags that have flown over the Nation's Capital. It is possible to obtain these flags at a reasonable cost. Two sizes can be had. The 3'x5' is made available for the price of $3.50. The 5'x8' is available for $6.50. Each flag is accompanied by a letter from the Architect of the Capital certifying that it has flown over the Nation's Capital.

Boards, Bureaus, Committees and Commissions

There used to be a saying that whenever the president of a club or organization ran into some controversial issue, the best thing to do was to appoint a committee to investigate the matter until it cooled off. From the number of boards, bureaus, commissions and committees in existence and being recommended on the government level, it looks like this same rule is being applied by Uncle Sam.

You will recall that last year the Congress, on the recommendation of the President, created the highly controversial Civil Rights Commission. This Commission was handed $200,000 out of the President's Emergency Fund on which to operate. As of March 25, 1958, the Commission had spent only $26,004.92 of this amount.

Nevertheless, when the Presidential Appropriation Bill came up on the Floor of Congress, an amendment was offered to add an additional $750,000 for the Civil Rights Commission. Needless to say, this caused quite a battle, but the money was appropriated anyway.

It goes without saying that my vote, along with many others, was cast against it. It probably goes to prove further that the most permanent thing in Washington is a temporary commission or building. This was further proved by a request that is now before the Interior Committee of the House of

WE LIKE A REGULAR TRADE

Prison Governor (to released convict — "I'm sorry, I find we have kept you here a week too long.")

Convict — "That's all right, sir. Knock it off next time."

Representatives.

The Alaskan Railway Commission was created in 1956 to last for two years and was given an appropriation of $75,000. The Commission was to investigate the economic feasibility of railway and highway transportation matters between this country and Alaska, as well as in Alaska proper.

This is the year that the report on these studies should be filed; however, instead of a report we get a proposed amendment to the original bill which would extend the life of this Commission for another two years and increase the appropriation from $75,000 to $387,500. In other words—double the life of the Commission and more than quadruple the money to be spent.

I thought this was going pretty far afield, but when Congress convened that day we had a message from the President requesting the

Congress to create a "National Aeronautics and Space Agency."

The President was prompted to make this request, according to his message, by the fact that his "Science Advisory Committee" had recommended that he do so. In other words, the government is carrying the practice one step further than the clubs and organizations were supposed to carry it.

The committee that is appointed to look into the matter is now advising the formation of another committee or commission. If this is carried out to its logical conclusion, every man, woman and child in the United States will eventually end up on a committee.

I would recommend that any committee recommending the creation of another committee, commission or board would immediately lose its own status. This would certainly put a stop to the matter in short order. We could also adopt the policy that for every new committee, commission, board or bureau that was established, at least two had to be abolished.

Federal Aid Highway Bill
The Conference Report on the Federal Aid Highway Bill of 1958

was adopted last week and included provisions against certain types of outdoor advertising along interstate highways. The bill would provide for regulation of outdoor advertising along interstate highways visible from the main portion of the highway and within a distance of 660 feet.

Such regulation would be consistent with standards to be prepared by the Secretary of Commerce, and only four types of signs would be permitted: 1) Directional or other official signs and notices required or authorized by law; 2) Signs permitted by State law advertising activities within 12 miles of the point at which the signs are located, which signs are consistent with the national policy and standards; 3) Signs advertising the sale or lease of property upon which they are located; and 4) Signs designed to give information in the specific interest of the traveling public which are erected pursuant to State law and which are consistent with the national policy and standards.

I voted against these measures, because it is my opinion that the use of a man's land should be regulated only in accordance with the police powers of the state and by the state—not by the federal government.

Occupational Disease

I took several of the children to the zoo last Sunday, and Washington does have an outstanding zoo. It has recently added a pair of wolverines, and we were looking for the cage that housed them. I asked one of the attendants where we could find it. He motioned in the direction where the cage was located. One of the children said to me, "you could sure tell that fellow had worked here a long time." I was puzzled at what he meant and said, "how could you tell that?" He replied, "He didn't have any fingers."

Anything GAS can do gas can do BETTER!

COMPARE, and see why Smart Moderns go GAS...

Can Gas cook a jucier roast? Can Gas cook a fluffier souffle? Can Gas cook a chewier brownie? Yes Ma'am! Why? Because Gas is the cooking fuel that really puts you in the driver's seat. You say how and when, and Gas obeys! There's a lot more to a completely automatic Gas oven than the timing device that turns it on and off. With Gas, thermostatic control is precision control... Gas is flexible enough to respond immediately. Gas can maintain the set temperature within a margin of five degrees. That's why your Gas oven cooks better, and also looks better. Modern, functional design reaches a new peak with Gas built-ins that will fit any floor plan, blend with any decor. Besides all this, Gas costs less to buy, less to install, less to operate. Let us give you the complete story or visit a Gas appliance dealer soon.

The Burner-With-A-Brain puts on and to pot watching... makes every pot and pan an automatic utensil.

The meat thermometer supplements the automatic control of your Gas oven for perfect roasting results.

Closed door broiling is advisable only when you cook with Gas, because only Gas consumes cooking vapors.

Committee Hears Progress Reports

The Randall District Committee of the Llano Estacado Council of Boy Scouts met Monday in the cafeteria at West Texas State College for reports on progress of the group.

Dr. Joseph Findley reported that a court of honor for Troops 66 and 31 was held in March. Membership at the end of March was 226 boys, with Troop 66 scheduled to be re-organized in April.

R. S. Fletcher of Hereford reported that additional Cub Scout training would be held in Canyon April 15.

May 1 was announced as the deadline for discounts on council summer camps.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Atkins of Big Spring spent last week in the G. B. Combs home.

BIT Will Present Shakespeare Play During Annual Festival of the Arts

For the first time since 1950, the department of speech at West Texas State College has chosen to produce one of the master playwright's timeless plays.

As a part of the annual Festival of the Arts, William A. Moore, director of drama, will produce William Shakespeare's comedy, "The Merchant of Venice." The great comedy of Shylock will be presented for five consecutive nights, May 5-10, in the Branding Iron Theatre.

Last Shakespearean production to be given at West Texas State was in 1950, when Moore directed another comedy, "Twelfth Night." That show was probably a little more elaborate than this year's production will be, for it was given in the college's big auditorium and was given orchestral accompaniment.

Moore has been working for some time in preparation for "The Merchant," blocking the show and hearing students read for parts. He has the assistance of the WT art department, and classes of Clarence Kincaid, instructor in art, have been designing costumes for possible use.

Costumes, at least a good part of them, will be made by members of the two campus dramatics clubs, Buffalo Masquers and Alpha Psi Omega. Sets, which will not be too elaborate for the Branding Iron stage, will be designed by Robert L. Antrim, technical director for the BIT.

Named to play the lead role of Shylock, a rich Jew, is Edward Thomas of Amarillo, one of the Branding Iron's most experienced actors. Thomas played the lead in the BIT's most recent drama, "The Desperate Hours."

Others already selected are J. Scott Glenn of Borger, to play Antonio, the merchant of Venice; Tommy Culpepper of Canyon, Basanio, the friend of Antonio and suitor to Portia; Carol Gray of Amarillo, Portia; Marty Hinson of Amarillo, Nerissa; Jerry Williams of Canyon, Gratiano.

David O'Keefe of Amarillo, Lorenzo; Merle Dean Ware of Hartley, Jessica; Billy Hodgson of Friona, Salario; and James Hinkley of Pampa, Salario.

Peace Officers Set Convention

Peace officers from a five-state area will hold their fifth annual United Peace Officers of America convention in May at Boys Ranch. The organization was formed in 1953 for the purpose of helping raise funds for a school building at the ranch, and since that time the officers have continued their interest in Boys Ranch.

Members of the United Peace Officers of America include all Texas highway patrolmen, sheriff's departments and city law enforcement officers as well as peace officers from every state and from parts of Canada. Capt. J. W. Blackwell, commanding officer of this district of the highway patrol, is president of the organization. Sheriff L. S. Johnston is second vice president.

Because members of UPOA recognized that Boys Ranch was rehabilitating boys who in many instances otherwise might have become problems for their own departments to handle, the organization, in its first resolution, stated that one of its chief aims was to assist in the building program at the ranch.

As a result of their first campaign, sufficient money was raised to begin construction on the school building, and with other help, the school was completed in 1955. The building has three wings and is built to accommodate 500 boys, the eventual goal of the ranch.

In addition to the regular curriculum, the school offers extensive vocational training for its 236 students. It is fully accredited, offers 12 grades and employs 15 teachers.

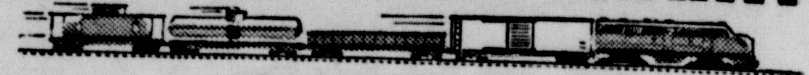

Plans for the convention call for an old-fashioned barbecue. Other program details will be announced later according to Capt. Blackwell.

Courtesies Honor Fanita Marshall

Fanita Marshall, bride-elect of Meade Humphries, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Humphries, was honored by two bridal courtesies recently. Miss Marshall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Marshall.

The home of Mrs. Janice Wells was the scene of a salad supper in Miss Marshall's honor April 10. Centered with daffodils and miniature iris, the tables were laid with lace cloths and imported china.

The supper was given by the Chapel Belles, a sextette from the First Baptist Church. The group is composed of Beverly Henson, Rachel Smith, Joy Gray, Mayla Atkinson, Wanda Rogers and Diane Prichard.

Miss Marshall was honored by a luncheon at Amarillo Club April 5. The luncheon was given by Mrs. Walter Graham of Happy, Billie Graham of Texas Christian University and Mrs. Nolan Henson of Lubbock.

Place settings of small net bags of rice tied with orange blossoms were used on a white linen cloth. The centerpiece was a silver platter, a gift to Miss Marshall from the hostesses.

Miss Marshall and Humphries will be married April 20 at the First Baptist Church.

Volunteers Man Ranks of National Guard Throughout Nation's History

(This is the first of a series of articles dealing with the National Guard, particularly F Company located in Canyon. The series will include a brief outline of the history of the guard and will be written by various guardsmen. The Editor)

The National Guard is a volunteer organization of citizen-soldiers with one or more units in towns throughout the United States. Canyon has such a unit, F Company of the 142nd Infantry Regiment, 36th Division, Texas National Guard.

Its headquarters are in the armory located on the north side of the Palo Duro Highway at the east edge of Canyon.

The National Guard is a military organization, but its members are civilians. They are local citizens who go to high school or college or work in offices, factories, stores, banks, on farms. Whatever their civilian occupations, they give part of their time every week to train in order that they might be better prepared to defend their community and their country.

As our country grew, the National Guard grew. As towns sprang up and states were added to the union, additional guard units came into being. Today there are more than 5000 guard units in more than 2000 communities. They are located in every one of the 48 states and in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia.

At the head of the National Guard are the governors of each state. The local units are commanded by officers who live in or near the community, as do the non-commissioned officers and men of the unit.

The mission of the National Guard is two-fold: 1) To provide units of the reserve components for the Army, adequately organized, trained and equipped, available for mobilization in the event of a national emergency, capable of participation in combat operations. This mission may include the defense of critical areas of the United States. 2) Provide sufficient organization in each state, so trained and equipped as to enable them to function efficiently in the protection of life and property and the preservation of peace, order and public safety, under competent orders of state officials.

The nucleus of today's Army National Guard is its 25 infantry divisions and four armored divisions. There is also a wide range of other types of units, including 19 regimental combat teams and 42 anti-aircraft artillery groups as well as many combat support units such as field artillery, armored cavalry, engineer, quartermaster, signal, military police and transportation units.

The backbone of our national defense for more than 300 years has been the National Guard. The guard is actually older than our nation. The militia units from which the guard stems go back to the early 17th century, with an unbroken history longer than any other part of our military establishment.

The oldest guard unit in the United States is the 182nd Infantry of Massachusetts, organized in 1636 as the Middlesex County Military Regiment. It met the call at Lexington and Concord where the American tradition of "Minuteman" was born.

The term "National Guard" was first used in 1824 when New York Units took the title to honor Lafayette, commander of the famed "Garde Nationale" in Paris. By 1896, most states had adopted this title.

Many famous Americans have made statements about the National Guard, such as these samples: George Washington, "The citizen militia, the guardian of our liberties, the bulwark of democracy."

Dwight D. Eisenhower, "With the van of our forces at Batan, Salerno, Anzio, Normandy, the National Guard has enriched its heritage of 170 years of service to the republic. In the post war period, its service is of mounting importance to our security and to the national leadership toward a stable, peaceful world."

Gen. George C. Marshall, "Of the citizen-army, the National Guard is in the first category of importance. It must be healthy and strong, ready to take its place in the first line of defense in the first week of an emergency, and not dependent upon a year or more of training before it can be conditioned to take the field against a trained enemy."

(Next week: The citizen army of Texas in the war for Texas Independence and Texas troops as a part of the Confederate army.)

TELEPHONE TALK

2000th telephone being installed for Mr. Wilson Campbell by Bob Gough of the telephone company.

2000th TELEPHONE IN CANYON

Around the turn of the century when Mr. Wilson Campbell first came to this area the telephone was still a new invention. He couldn't call from his farm into Canyon so he rode along the dirt streets to the blacksmith shop or the wagon yard.

The other day Mr. and Mrs. Campbell moved into town and bought the beautiful brick home at 1613 7th Avenue. When their telephone was installed, it became number 2,000 in Canyon.

It was in 1948 that we put in the 1,000th telephone. In other words, it took some 50 years for Canyon to gain the first 1,000 telephones and only 10 more years to double the number.

You know, adding telephones means more than just an indication that our town is growing. It means that the service has more value for each of us. In 1948 we could only call 1,000 other telephones. Today we can call and be called by twice that many.

GOING SOMEWHERE?

Some people I know have started planning their vacations because they know planning ahead can make a vacation more fun.

They've found, too, that calling ahead makes a vacation even more fun. No worry about whether you'll find accommodations. No guessing as to whether the people you want to visit are home. Calling ahead on your vacation trip or on any trip makes it more fun, gives you more peace of mind.

And, don't forget that the people at home like to hear from you, too. A telephone call is a personal, easy way to keep in touch.

Next time, call. Take the worries out of travel.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.
